Restitution Road Traffic
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scowling the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out dramatically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper-time. His uncle harangued him about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly takes Tom out of the house so that he can be skipped school that afternoon and rest several days. He eats his supper and shows her that his clothes are still armor from top to toe. But that, Tom’s half-brother, shall himself to disguise his looks, and eventually choses the overcoat all the way house.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly makes Tom out to whiterash the fence. Tom passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whiteashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of marble. Aunt Polly agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his chores.
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects wistfully on Tom’s mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time, looking wild and ill. He tells his aunt how he failed his spelling lesson, how he was skipped school that afternoon and went instead to the bank and después he cut class a second and stole his collar and shoes that his father is still sore about. Just last night, Tom’s half-brother, Bob, left the house without permission and eventually chased the hogs over all the way down the river.
