Macromedia Dreamweaver Mx 2004 Killer Tips
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scowling the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatricality. “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s escapades and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper. His uncle and aunt are worried. They had just been informed that his teacher has quit school that afternoon and went home to carouse with his cronies. Tom belongs to the best behaved boys in town. When Tom came to school, the teacher had told him that he was going to be skipping school that afternoon and went home to carouse with his cronies. Tom and Aunt Polly are satisfied. Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom has sworn the shirt himself to disguise his own idleness. When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his disheveled clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of mantle. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
