The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's misdeeds and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. He tells everyone how he was skipped school that afternoon and went swimming in the river. He even had his clothes on his head and shows his Aunt Polly how to cook steamboat and how to cook fish. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house into the streets of St. Petersburg. He is full of energy and looks extremely well. He is going out and eventually choses the newsmen all the way home.

When he arrives home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom lies to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of miracle. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
